SENATOR FLAYS AWARDS IN BIG WAR CONTRACTS

Kenyon Charges Huge Orders Want to Defense Board Aids.

Washington, D. C., July 17.—[Special.]—Vigorous attack was made in the senate today on the manner in which contracts are being let for the government through the operation of the advisory committee of the Council of National Defense. Senator Kenyon of Iowa mentioned in particular the contracts awarded for shoes, pointing out that huge contracts had been let to firms, the officers of which are members of the shoe and leather committees of the council.

The manner in which the contracts have been made for the sixteen great army cantonments now being constructed was the subject of criticism by Senator McKellar of Tennessee, who bitterly arraigned the war department for making these contracts on the percentage profit basis. He said that under that plan a contractor for one cantonment could make as much as $250,000, practically merely for supervision of the work.

Contractor Fixes Prices.—The government, he said, is to pay for all the labor and materials at prices fixed by the contractor and allow him a profit of 7 per cent, but in no case was the per cent profit to exceed $250,000. Originally the department had intended to allow 10 per cent profit.

Senator Williams of Mississippi suggested that "frequently if you have about a million things to get, you can get only 35,000 from one man at a certain price, and you must take more from somebody else at a higher price."

Senator Kenyon admitted that to be true, and said he hoped some such explanation might be forthcoming in regard to these contracts.

"But it simply does not look good on the face of it," he said.

Pomeroy Takes a Stand.—"It is an easy matter to question the good faith of a man acting in a public capacity," said Senator Pomeroy, "and until I get some evidence by which I can judge these men have been acting unfairly I shall not condemn them. I agree with the senator, however, that if there has been favoritism or discrimination of any kind I should be glad to have the matter investigated."

Senator Kenyon strongly urged the adoption of the proposed amendment to the food control bill which will prohibit members of the Council of National Defense and its advisory committee from making contracts for the government in which they or their firms are interested.

"I do not for a minute desire to prevent the government from having the advice and the services of the great business men who have come to Washington to aid the government at this juncture," Senator Kenyon said. "But the American people are entitled to have the contracts for their government fairly made."

Committee Action Explained.—He had read to the senate an extract from a speech made by Representative Good of Iowa at Cedar Rapids in which Mr. Good charged that contracts granted for shoes for the government had gone to members of the committee on shoes and leather of the advisory committee at prices far in excess of the prices quoted by the lowest bidder.

Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, chairman of the defense council's committee on supplies, said that the shoe contracts did not go entirely to the lowest bidder because no single concern could make all the shoes needed by the government.

The government asked the shoe manufacturers to bid on a pair of shoes at the 3,000,000 shoes needed. Those who bid on the amount it could not make. Then the government accepted the lowest bid which would furnish the aggregate, the 3,000,000 shoes. The bids were at various prices the government is paying more for some shoes than for others.

PUT CENT STAMP ON MAGAZINES FOR SERVICE MEN

Washington, D. C., July 17.—[Special.]—Uncle Sam is going to make it easier for you to send your old magazines to his soldiers and sailors at the front in Europe, according to an order issued by Postmaster General Burleson today.

Uncle Sam does not even trouble you to wrap, address, or weigh the magazine. After reading it, just stick a one-cent stamp on the cover of the magazine, no matter how much the magazine weighs, and hand it to any postal employee.

The order extends the privilege to readers and not to publishers. Magazines to be accepted for mailing under this order must have printed in the upper right hand corner of the front cover the following:

NOTICE TO READER: When you finish reading this magazine place a 1 cent stamp on this notice, hand name to any postal employee and it will be placed in the hands of our soldiers or sailors at the front. NO WRAPPING. NO ADDRESS.

"A. B. BUNLESS, Postmaster General." Postmasters will be given instructions from time to time as to the manner of forwarding such magazines.

Fall of Bastille Celebrated While German Guns Hurl Shells Over Trench

BY LINCOLN EYRE.
(Copyright, 1917, by Press Publishing Company (New York World).)

ON FRENCH FRONT IN ALBACHE, July 14.—[Delayed.]—On this day a century and a quarter ago French people, with an Alsatian French at their head, overthrew tyranny by smashing the Bastille and liberating its fettered victims. Today voices of cannon remind us that people of France, in common with the rest of civilization, are called upon to overthrow more sinister tyranny. Tomorrow our glorious armies, aided by the valiant soldiers of the United States, will smash that new Bastille, which is Germany, and once more liberate the world; victory—the French provinces of Alsace and Lorraine.

To the accompaniment of German shells bursting over a nearby trench and French "archers" supporting a German airplane over our heads, the words quoted above were declaimed with fiery emphasis by the principal speaker at the most sensational banquet held in France, during the war, and the most famous ever attended anywhere.

Meat in Reconquered Country.—Beyond stating that it took place in a town in reconquered Alsace, scarcely more than a mile from the German line, I am not permitted to specify the locality in which the affair was staged, or the names of the two hosts, the Alsatian nationalist who was present. To do so might bring "reprisals" in the shape of savage bombardment upon the heads of those who dared to demonstrate their loyalty to France on soil that has been a part of the German empire.

Luncheon, for it was held at noon on this national holiday, was not simply a gathering of convivial Frenchmen or mere expenditure of mutual esteem exchanged between their Alsatian hosts and a handful of French officers who, with four American correspondents, were guests. Its significance has great depth, for it is the first article of manifestation by Alsatians themselves, since the war began of their yearning to see their country returned to France.

Right Under Enemy's Guns.—America's entry into the conflict has quickened their desire to see the whites of their eyes, and the first article of manifestation by Alsatians themselves, since the war began of their yearning to see their country returned to France.

ON FRENCH FRONT IN ALBACHE, July 14.—[Delayed.]—On this day a century and a quarter ago French people, with an Alsatian French at their head, overthrew tyranny by smashing the Bastille and liberating its fettered victims. Today voices of cannon remind us that people of France, in common with the rest of civilization, are called upon to overthrow more sinister tyranny. Tomorrow our glorious armies, aided by the valiant soldiers of the United States, will smash that new Bastille, which is Germany, and once more liberate the world; victory—the French provinces of Alsace and Lorraine.

To the accompaniment of German shells bursting over a nearby trench and French "archers" supporting a German airplane over our heads, the words quoted above were declaimed with fiery emphasis by the principal speaker at the most sensational banquet held in France, during the war, and the most famous ever attended anywhere.

Meat in Reconquered Country.—Beyond stating that it took place in a town in reconquered Alsace, scarcely more than a mile from the German line, I am not permitted to specify the locality in which the affair was staged, or the names of the two hosts, the Alsatian nationalist who was present. To do so might bring "reprisals" in the shape of savage bombardment upon the heads of those who dared to demonstrate their loyalty to France on soil that has been a part of the German empire.

Luncheon, for it was held at noon on this national holiday, was not simply a gathering of convivial Frenchmen or mere expenditure of mutual esteem exchanged between their Alsatian hosts and a handful of French officers who, with four American correspondents, were guests. Its significance has great depth, for it is the first article of manifestation by Alsatians themselves, since the war began of their yearning to see their country returned to France.

Right Under Enemy's Guns.—America's entry into the conflict has quickened their desire to see the whites of their eyes, and the first article of manifestation by Alsatians themselves, since the war began of their yearning to see their country returned to France.

"But it simply does not look good on the face of it," he said.

Pomeroy Takes a Stand.—"It is an easy matter to question the good faith of a man acting in a public capacity," said Senator Pomeroy, "and until I get some evidence by which I can judge these men have been acting unfairly I shall not condemn them. I agree with the senator, however, that if there has been favoritism or discrimination of any kind I should be glad to have the matter investigated."

Senator Kenyon strongly urged the adoption of the proposed amendment to the food control bill which will prohibit members of the Council of National Defense and its advisory committee from making contracts for the government in which they or their firms are interested.

"I do not for a minute desire to prevent the government from having the advice and the services of the great business men who have come to Washington to aid the government at this juncture," Senator Kenyon said. "But the American people are entitled to have the contracts for their government fairly made."

Committee Action Explained.—He had read to the senate an extract from a speech made by Representative Good of Iowa at Cedar Rapids in which Mr. Good charged that contracts granted for shoes for the government had gone to members of the committee on shoes and leather of the advisory committee at prices far in excess of the prices quoted by the lowest bidder.

Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, chairman of the defense council's committee on supplies, said that the shoe contracts did not go entirely to the lowest bidder because no single concern could make all the shoes needed by the government.

The government asked the shoe manufacturers to bid on a pair of shoes at the 3,000,000 shoes needed. Those who bid on the amount it could not make. Then the government accepted the lowest bid which would furnish the aggregate, the 3,000,000 shoes. The bids were at various prices the government is paying more for some shoes than for others.

GERMANY'S HAND IS SEEN IN FINN REPUBLIC HOPE

Proposed Law Might Bring On Anarchy, Russian Official Says.

HELSINKI, July 17.—The proposed promulgation whereby Finland seeks to wrest from Russia complete independence has caused extreme tension and nervousness. The situation is complicated by the diet's refusal to grant a full 300,000,000 marks loan to Russia and by threat of a general strike if the diet postpones the passage of the new communal bill abolishing property qualifications.

Gov. Gen. Stokholm outlined to the Associated Press Russia's standpoint. "The seriousness of the situation today," he said, "arises from the fact that a majority of the senate in the diet has abandoned legality and the principle of unanimity, and insists on regulating its own internal affairs by the will of Finland alone."

Means Finnish Republic.—"That is not all. The new

PROGRAM OUT FOR JUNIORS OF GOLF LINKS

Event at Exmoor Starts Aug. 8; Mrs. Smalley Wins.

BY JOE DAVIS.

The program of the western junior amateur golf championship to be held at the Exmoor Country Club Aug. 8 to 10 was issued yesterday by Secretary Charles M. Smalley. The qualifying round at eighteen holes will be played the first day, starting at 9 o'clock. Three flights of sixteen each will qualify. The first match round will be played the following morning and the second round the afternoon, together with the first round for the beaten elite. Semi-finals and finals will be staged on the third day.

The tournament is open to amateur golfers residing in the United States or Canada, whether members of golf clubs or not, who are under 30 years of age. Entries must be sent to Charles M. Smalley, 1320 Lombard street, Chicago, by Aug. 4, and must be accompanied by a certificate from a club member, parent, or school teacher, vouching for the age of the contestant. The entry fee is $1.

Mrs. Smalley Wins.

Mrs. E. H. Smalley, formerly Miss Freda Werner, won the low scoring honors in the qualifying round of the two days' tournament at the Windsor Golf Club. She had a card of 90 in the medal rounds, leading Mrs. E. H. Harwood, her sister, by five strokes. In the first match round at nine holes Mrs. Smalley defeated Miss Gladys Curran of Windsor, 1 up, 11 holes, and Mrs. Mervin Jones of Glen Oak, city champion, won from Mrs. E. H. Harwood by a similar margin.

The finals will be staged this morning and a consolation event for those who failed to qualify and those defeated in the first round. A mixed foursome will be staged in the afternoon.

Domestic science expert lectures daily on new canning methods

Mrs. Charles Gray, formerly associate professor in Iowa Agricultural College, gives instructive talks daily, 2:30 to 3:30, on "Canning vegetables and fruits by the cold pack method." Today's program: "Raspberries," "Carrots," "Spinach." Evaporation of vegetables and fruits, also, demonstrated by expert. Household utilities section, sixth floor.

Mandel Brothers

Important third floor offerings—

Thru the initiative of our representative on the Island, we can feature Porto Rican lingerie—all hand made and hand embroidered—at a very special figure

These exquisite garments were fashioned under the personal direction of our own representative in Porto Rico—and embroidered according to our own designs. Five representative styles are pictured below. Lingerie shop, third floor.

600 night dresses 1.95

250 chemises

All hand made and hand embroidered in eyelet design, or dot design all around. Three styles pictured. Third floor.

These, also, are all hand made, hand scalloped and daintily embroidered. Three styles—two here pictured.

A full third saving on imported wool slippers, $5 manufacturer's overstock of imported, slightly brushed wool slippers, now so popular, secured in a most fortunate purchase. One model collarless—a few others with collar.

Fresh from the orient: Jap habutai silk kimonos $2—exquisitely emb'd—10.75

—the embroidery in two-tone colorings: the kimonos in light or dark shades; the style pictured. You will exclaim at the values. Third floor.

Attractive sports shades
Not all sizes nor a complete range of coloring in each style—this is part responsible for the lowness of the $5 quotation. Desirable choice in the entire lot, however. Third floor.

Kimonos, 2.50—made of crepe; emb'd in multi-shades; see cut. Pink, blue, lavender or rose.
Kimonos, 3.95—crepe, emb'd in white; styled with American sleeves, trimmed in white. See picture.

Announcing to Begin
Wednesday Morning—

An Important Selling of Men's and Young Men's Suits

$18.50—$23.50—$27.50

This is a splendid suit buying opportunity, for these groups represent suits specially priced, as well as those reduced in price.

They include the newest—plain sack and belted effects—smart mixtures and novelties—quarter, half and full lined coats—carefully tailored—in all sizes.

We believe this to be an excellent opportunity for men and young men to buy suits for future as well as immediate use at these special pricings.

Two-piece summer suits, $10 to $25

Second Floor, South.

Mandel Brothers

Men's shop, second floor.

Two extraordinary factors contribute to the significance of a sale of men's dependable suits —an important purchase; together with small lots from our own stock, reduced.

The "purchase" involves a maker's stock of quarter, half and full lined, hand tailored worsted suits in conservative and "ultra" models—including the season's most advanced belted effects.

19.75

300 are suits remaining from our recent sales at higher prices

—still further lowered in price and included at 19.75 in this season's greatest clothing sale. All sizes in the offer for men of stout, slim, short and regular build.

Men's shop, second floor.

Eastern importer's stock of men's straw hats about half

Included are hats from the most prominent hat makers in Europe and America.

Singapore braids.
Sennit braids.
French palm braids.
Split braids, milan braids.

This sale affords Chicago's men a remarkable opportunity to secure high grade straw hats in this season's latest shapes, at pronounced savings. Men's shop, second floor.

MARSHALL FIELD & CO

This Store will close Saturdays at 1 o'clock during July and August.

Red Cross Branch—Located on the Third Floor

Please give your services for an hour in making Red Cross Surgical Dressings. Instruction is provided without charge under the direction of graduate instructors who contribute their services free to the Red Cross. Third Floor, South Room.

An Exceptional Selling of Several Hundred

Misses' Bathing Suits Specially Priced at $6.95

Wool Jersey is decidedly in favor this season. This, coupled with the unusual nature of the purchase—the savings which we pass on to our customers—makes this an event of importance to misses.

All Colors and Color Combinations

There are two models—one plain; one belted. Both styles have attached tights. The jersey is of a firm, closely knitted quality that will not sag away from the body. Sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20.

Misses' White Wash Skirts

Specially Priced at $3.35

The season of White Skirts is just beginning, and here is a great number specially priced so low that any woman may select several, to tide over the hottest weather. There are four attractive styles—with effectively designed pockets and wide, youthful belts. The cotton gabardine from which they are made is of very excellent quality. Waist band sizes to 28; lengths to 39.

Pique and Organdie Neckwear

Quite as Low-Priced as It Is Attractive

The simple gingham and voile frocks that one sees so frequently this Summer need the refreshing touch of such Collars and Cuffs as these.

Vestees, Guimpes, Collars and Cuffs
Colored Organdie Vestees with cuffs, $6; illustrated. Vestee without cuffs, $4.25. Collars are $1.25 to $2. Sets, $2 to $6; illustrated. White Organdie Guimpes, $3; illustrated. White Organdie Vestees, 50c and up. White Organdie Collars, ruffled, are 50c to $2. Sets, 50c to $5.50. Pique Collars are 50c to $3.50. Pique Cuffs are $9 to $22.50.

Women's New Silk Frocks Anticipate the Modes of Fall

By the drape of the skirt, the cut of the collar, the turn of the sleeve—the new in fashion declares itself.

And that this new is receiving that delightful interpretation one has come to associate with apparel here one can note in—

New Taffeta Frocks, $25

The skirt forms a cascade at the sides and narrows at the hem. The collar at the back is almost waist deep. Navy blue, old blue, taupe. At the right.

New Satin Frocks at $35

Soft, lustrous satin fashioned in a rippling tunic style as to skirt. The bodice has a surplised vestee of faint tint Georgette crepe. In taupe, tan, navy blue. At the left.

Fourth Floor, North.

Women's Smocks and Frocks For Summer Outdoor Occasions

Mid-week means a looking forward to and providing for the week-end trips, the setting out on vacations, which demand just such as these—

Slip-Over Smocks of Linen, $2.95

White with the smocking done in charmingly blended colors. Note the middy lacing and the wide collar.

Uncommon "Coolie" Smocks, $3.50

Comfort in the wide open sleeves, and smartness in the vividly printed dots. Of fine white cotton gabardine.

Fine Hand-Embroidered Smocks, $5

Of fine grass cloth with most elaborate embroidery in front, back, collar. A truly delightful style.

Smart Khaki Outing Frocks at $5.75

The blouse is in the form of a middy convenient fitted with pockets—the skirt is straight and simple.

Fourth Floor, North.

Service Suits at $5.95

The Subject of a Special Selling

Their popularity seems to increase each summer day, as they make themselves more useful and necessary to the active woman.

Created with every consideration for comfort, convenience and convention, they possess many features exclusively their own.

Note the tight ankle cuff and the trimness of line. Of genuine khaki cloth (at the right), $5.95.

Overettes of Khaki Cloth, $2.95

These are pictured at the left. Every detail is carefully worked out in these garments. They assure ease and comfort. Overettes of linen in natural color, $1.95.

In ordering by mail—give measurements of bust and hip and length from neck to ankles.
